Belonging Is the Compass

Grow community · Teens & adults

Verse 1

There’s a softness in the shifting,
When the road begins to change,
I’ve been gathering my courage,
For the chapters still unnamed.
With each turn I find the rhythm,
A dance I didn't know,
Every twist, it feels like freedom,
As I learn just where to go.

Verse 2

Every step has shaped my being,
Every voice has helped me grow,
Now I listen for the calling,
Where my gifts are meant to go.
In the laughter and the heartache,
I find beauty in the scars,
Every moment’s like an anchor,
Guiding me towards the stars.

Chorus

Belonging is the compass,
A quiet steady pull,
It leads me toward connection,
To the places I feel whole.
Belonging is the compass,
A whisper on the breeze,
I’m walking toward a future,
That’s already calling me.

Verse 3

With the sun upon my shoulders,
And the night within my heart,
I embrace the journey onward,
Every ending is a start.
There’s a comfort in the knowing,
That I’m never on my own,
With each person that I cherish,
I’m reminded I have grown.

Chorus

Belonging is the compass,
A gentle guide in hand,
It brings me close to my dreamscape,
To the places where I stand.
Belonging is the compass,
A melody so sweet,
Notes of love are softly playing,
As we gather at our feet.

Bridge — gentle hope

Heart open in the in-between,
Trusting what my eyes can’t see,
Every ending plants a seed,
Love will grow what’s meant to be.
In the stillness of the moments,
In the chaos, in the calm,
I will find my way through shadows,
With the light of who I am.

Chorus — soft reprise

Belonging is the compass,
(hush on final C)
With every breath, I find my way,
Through all the roads I’ve wandered stray.
Belonging is the compass,
It's the journey of the heart,
Together we’ll embrace the dawn,
As we find our way, not far apart.
